

ARABIC 311-2

This course will provide you with skills you need to build an understanding of authentic Arabic materials on your own after strengthening your knowledge of grammar, sentence structure, expressions and idioms, and cultural competency. This is the second part of a three-quarter course (311). We will be working on theme-based units covering topics such as education; the role of religion in the Arab society; health and food, and the Arab woman. Attention will be on issues that are highly relevant to modern Arab society, encouraging active engagement with the course and further exploration of the themes. We will work on a rich variety of reading passages from contemporary sources.
